

Chapter 10

SUGAR DADDIES and HIGH PRICED PROSTITUTES

A man age 80 met a young woman age 24 ,
The young woman started the conversation.
“You are wearing a rain coat . It is not raining.
You must live alone with no wife. Isn't this correct? ” The old man replied in the affirmative. The old man felt flattered that a stranger an attractive woman is giving him attention . He decided to continue the conversation . He invited the young woman to a near by coffee shop. They had coffee and cookies. They also had a long conversation.

The young woman listened attentively. The old man's ego blossomed. He asked if she would join him for dinner at a local restaurant. She agreed. He told her that he presently is retired. He owns real estate worth several million dollars. He tipped the waiter a hundred dollar bill. The young woman was very impressed. He then asked if she would be interested in seeing his apartment building that he owned. She agreed. They traveled in his Mercedes Benz driven by his personal body guard.

Once there he invited her to his apartment. He asked if she would be willing to sleep over the night. She agreed. They were intimate.

She begged him to lend her 100,000. He agreed. He wrote out a check. She said she needed cash, They went to a bank the next day and cashed the check.

The old man asked for her address and phone . She gave him all that information. He asked to see her again. She agreed. They agreed to meet at 5 PM . The old man was driven to the address she gave him.

Surprise !!! There was no such person living at the address she gave him. He called her cell. The number did not exist.

Lesson

Old men and many times young men are fools. !!!

Yes, lonely men are taken by members of the opposite sex. Who exploit their hunger for attention and sex. In this instance the cost of this prostitute was $ 100,000.

In an other case the young woman married the old man. She stayed with him for five years. They had three children . Then she left him for a younger man. She sued for maintenance and child support. She stripped him.

He countered sued that the children were not his. The court performed a paternity tests. The tests showed that the children were his.

She moved back to the foreign country that she came from. The old man ended paying support for the children and alimony for her.

He visited the children. The children were with him for alternate holidays.

This was the price he paid for not following the admonition given that “You do not marry a woman where there exists a large difference of age. Because she will tire of his money and seek her own sexual gratification with a younger man. ”Aruch Hashulchon Even Hoazer 2:6 Talmud Sanhedrin
